

PERSONAL PROPERTY FORMS MAILED BY APPRAISER

Personal Property Rendition forms will be mailed by the Neosho County appraiser's office at the end of December. They are due back in the appraiser's office by March 15th. These forms include a computer printout listing the items reported or discovered the previous year. Residents need to make corrections, deleting items disposed of and adding new items. If there are no changes, sign the form and return to the county office by March 15. If you receive a form, but no longer have personal property, YOU MUST STILL SIGN & RETURN your form, marking the box that you no longer own or control any personal property. The county appraiser emphasizes that you return your rendition before the filing deadline. All Personal Property Rendition Forms must be returned by March 15 and must be signed and dated. According to state law, the penalties for late filing are: Within 15 days, 5%; within 16-30 days, 10%; 31-45 days, 15%; 46-60 days, 20%; over 60 days, 25%; and failure to file is 50%.
